One of Most Important Matters to Come Before North Carolina Legislature.

[Special to The Times-Dispetch.] Raleigh, N. C., November 25 .- The impression is strong among public men impression is strong among public men here that the Legislature which is to convene in January will have about its hardest fight over the passage of a State primary law that will be binding for all political parties. There was a strong effort to pass such a bill two years ago, but it failed, after one fo the most spirited debates the House had. This time it is said that there will be much stronger forces behind it, and the indications are that it will be enacted into ia wwithout it will be enacted into la wwithout doubt. The strongest opposition among the Democrats two years ago to the primary bill were the Western members. This time National Committee man Josephus Daniels and a number of others of the strongest party lead-ers are determined in their purpose to secure such a law at the hands of the incoming Legislature. There are indications that a decidedly progres sive measure that is sure to be urge upon the Legislature is that for initiative and referendum, possibly in some modified form. It is the prevailing opinion here that such an act

In this town because of a decision by 1912, on $2,000 up to November 11, the Board of Health which permits 1912, and on $1,900 from that date, kissing. But with the decision comes the restriction that all who desire to will be announced at sale. ns in this manne oust keep their lips clean.

There was much contention as to the spread of disease through kissing, and the board compromised by declaring that while disease may be transmitted by osculation, the danger may be obviated by keeping the lips clean.

Women are generally careful about the state of their health, and they are apt to make good use of remedies known as dis-ter preventives. Germicides and anti-poptics are included in this class, but the greatest care should be exercised in using any which contain poisons, unless pre-cibled by a physician.
